VOLUME XXV Number 30

August 7, 2015

I’ve been listening to stories shared by our youth at camp this summer. There have been no lack of amazing things that have touched their hearts in their time away! One of the most moving experiences to me is when they feel some sort of “calling” from God.

The question we all ask is “Is it for real?” The problem is that the word “calling” is ambiguous. Callings can be general or specific. But what I’ve learned in my years of ministry is that our call is simple: Use well the abilities that God has given to you!

Now, don’t you just wish God would stretch a long banner across the sky with your name on it and tell you exactly what he is calling you to do? Well. That would be way too easy! So... just how likely is it that you will get a direct instruction from God? Scripture offers an answer to the question.... and the answer is....not very likely.

It’s easy to check this on your own. Pick any biblical figure and count the number of times God instructed them personally, and then compare that to how long the person lived.

water only once...but he was to walk with Jesus for his entire life!

Our call is simple: Use well the abilities that God has given you. The truth is, we won’t always know what to do; sometimes we’ll miss the mark. But the goal isn’t to avoid painful

“The desire to please God does, in fact, please Him.” - Thomas Merton

Even for someone like Abraham, they were relatively rare. So if God rarely gave directives to Abraham, Moses or Mary, maybe we need to rethink our expectations for ourselves.

Here’s what I know about our “calling”. We are expected to do something good with what we’ve been given, and that is why what we do with our lives matters. The call to do something good lasts a lifetime. Jesus called Peter to walk on consequences. The goal isn’t to make perfect decisions all the time. The goal is to honor and please God.

If that’s your goal, you will use well the abilities that God has given you. If I sincerely desire to honor God, I cannot fail to please Him. And that is good news!

Blessings in your “calling”

- Pastor Cindy

Our Final Camp Meeting Days in Worship This Sunday!

Woo-hoo! Didn’t you LOVE having Salt Creek Band back with us this past Sunday in worship? It was so much fun singing and clapping our hands I along with the music—God is good! Thank you, Salt Creek Band, for setting our toes to tapping and helping us remember some of that good old Gospel Blue Grass music.

We have just one more week to go in our Camp Meeting series.

This coming Sunday on August 9th, Rev. Antonio Porter will be our guest preacher to “bring it all home!” in a revival style worship experience! Come join us as we gather together to worship our Lord!!

PLEASE PRAY FOR . . .

VISION IN EDUCATION LEADERSHIP AWARD

TIPS ON "ENJOYING LIFE" (part one)

- ~ Say something positive as early in the day as possible.
- ~ Believe in miracles, but don't depend on them.
- ~ Seek respect rather than popularity; quality rather than luxury.
- ~ If your mom says "you'll regret it" you probably will.
- ~ Be happy with what you have while working on what you want.
- ~ Celebrate even small victories.
- ~ When in doubt, smile.

ALLYSON'S ANNOUNCEMENT

During the Sunday School hour on August 16th, New Haven will be hosting a "Backpacks and Blessings" event for those students (through 12th grade) in our congregation and neighborhood that will be starting school. We will have a light breakfast, as well as a time where we will pray over the students and their backpacks. Many of the students will come with a backpack, ready to start school; some will not, because the family cannot afford the cost. That's where New Haven comes in! We are asking for donations of new, gender-neutral, basic backpacks (no drawstring, please), in the range of $20. Our goal is to collect at least 30. There will be a basket in the hallway to put your donations. If you have any questions, please let me know!

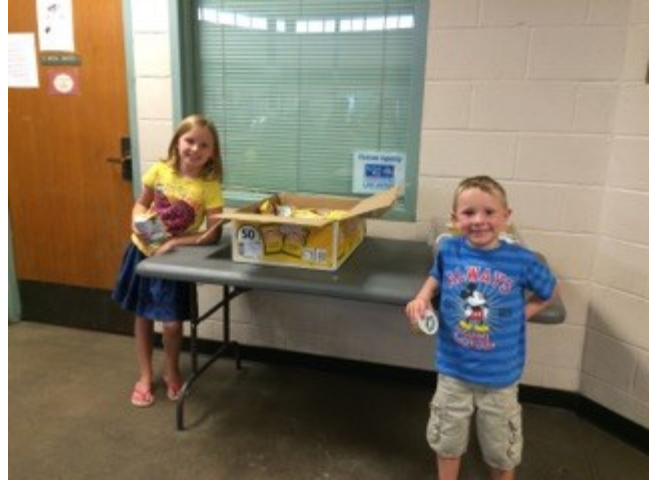

Congratulations to Jude Smith for earning his "God and Family" Scouting award!!! The Scouting program provides a wonderful opportunity for children in 4th-5th grades and their families to explore their faith together. Way to go, Jude!!!

UMPTENAGERS TO MEET ON AUGUST 20TH

Bring your appetite and your ideas to the church parlor on Thursday, Aug. 20th. We will have lunch, then plan our activity schedule for the coming year. Pastor Cindy is available on August 20th to meet with us! Hope everyone can be there!
